From the Principal's Desk

I welcome all incoming students to the 2023-24 session. Gurudas College is in the process of rolling out the first year of the Four Year Undergraduate Programme. This is an exciting new period in the history of our institution and I hope you will join us in this journey for the next four years, graduating with a Honours or Honours with Research degree. The college is also in the process of rolling out the first year of the Three Year (Multidisciplinary) Programme. I hope the newly structured programme, with its focus on skill development, will be of immense interest to the new batch. I request incoming students to regularly attend events organised by the Career Counselling Cell as well as other skill development-centric events to realise the fullest potential of this programme.

In this exciting new phase of transformation, the college too is in the process of transforming itself into a modern multidisciplinary institution of higher education, with an emphasis on learning outcomes, knowledge and skill development. We now offer exciting add-on courses for our students and have signed a number of MoUs with other institutions for collaborative learning, resource sharing and knowledge pooling. Our departments place an emphasis on experiential and hands-on learning. We can also boast of an excellent ICT infrastructure, which we are in the process of expanding. A new building is under construction, giving us more space for our infrastructural needs.

Last, but not the least, I wish to request all incoming students to inform themselves of the anti-ragging and anti-sexual harassment policies of the college. The institution has a zero tolerance policy for the same.

About Gurudas College

Gurudas College, established in 1956, is an undergraduate college affiliated to the University of Calcutta. The defining characteristics of the college were formed both by its history and geography. The name commemorates the legacy of Sir Gurudas Banerjee, the first Indian Vice-Chancellor of the University of Calcutta, tireless champion of the spread of education and resident of the historic Narkeldanga neighbourhood.

The college started its journey at a time of social upheaval. Five colleges were established By a government order issued in July 1956, five colleges were established under the aegis of the Ministry of Relief and Rehabilitation, to meet the growing educational needs due to the influx of displaced people after the Partition. Gurudas College was one of them. The primary mission of the college upon establishment was to empower the disadvantaged members of the locality through education.

The Narkeldanga neighbourhood in the eastern periphery of the city has a rich and diverse cultural history. The area has a Greek Cemetery, a Parsi Tower of Silence, and a Jewish Graveyard. It reflects the composite culture and cosmopolitan spirit of West Bengal. The area has proved to be an ideal location for the college.

It has been more than 60 years since that time, and the college has grown into a full-fledged institution with a sprawling campus consisting of three buildings (with another under construction) and a well-stocked library with modern equipment. It now offers undergraduate courses in 20 subjects. 18 of these departments offer Honours programmes. Three departments (Bengali, Zoology and Physics) offer Postgraduate programmes.

Sir Gooroodas Banerjee (1844-1918)

The first Indian to become the Vice-Chancellor of an Indian University, Sir Gooroodas (Gurudas) Banerjee has secured a permanent place in our national history as a judge, a public figure and a noted educationist. Born in 1844 in Narikeldanga (the same neighbourhood where our college stands now), Sir Gooroodas Banerjee, a trained Mathematician, legal luminary and Sanskrit scholar, occupies a unique position among the galaxy of eminent Bengalis of the nineteenth century.

He established quite early in life his claim to academic honours, topping successive examinations conducted by the University of Calcutta (F.A. in 1862, B.A. in 1864, M.A. in 1865 and B.L. in 1866) that reached a culmination with the award of the coveted degree of Doctor of Laws, a rare distinction in those days. A doyen of educationists in his time, Sir Gooroodas served in many capacities as an academician. However, the crowning glory of his career as an academic came in 1890 when he accepted the post of the Vice-Chancellor of Calcutta University at the personal request of the then Viceroy and Chancellor, Lord Lansdowne.

It was due to his sustained and relentless efforts that Bengali language and literature received its rightful place in the syllabus of the University of Calcutta and was made a compulsory subject at a time when vernaculars were neglected at the University level. His most significant contribution to educational thinking was the suggestion, which he was the first to make and to press continuously, that if education was to be meaningful, the medium of instruction should be the mother tongue of the student. He emphatically stated that the aim of education is to equip the learner with necessary knowledge and promote all-round well-being. Chiefly remembered for his contribution as one of the greatest educationists of Bengal, Sir Gooroodas Banerjee breathed his last in 1918.

Last, but Not the Least

The Gurudas College Library is regularly used by the faculty members, students and non-teaching staff members of the College. We are dedicated to the task of becoming a pioneering centre of knowledge organisation and management in the country, as well as in the Indian subcontinent. It is undoubtedly one of the most important centres of learning in Gurudas College. The Library moves towards the future keeping in mind the major functions of a library, as stated by Rabindranath Tagore:

“লাইব্রেরির মুখ্য কর্তব্য, গ্রন্থের সঙ্গে পাঠকদের সচেতন ভাবে পরিচয় সাধন করিয়ে দেওয়া, গ্রন্থসংগ্রহ ও সংরক্ষা তার গৌণ কাজ।” – রবীন্দ্রনাথ ঠাকুর

“The primary task of a library is to introduce book to its readers, collection and preservation are secondary.” – Rabindranath Tagore

In the course of the pandemic, students of the college have taken the lead in social outreach activities, in charitable work such as supporting Covid warriors and those affected by Covid-19, participating in relief work following the Cyclone Amphan and assisting the Cyclone Shelter at Gurudas College during Cyclone Yaas.
