Report on Student Week Celebration by the Department of Sanskrit, Gurudas College

The Department of Sanskrit of Gurudas College organised a vibrant and engaging Student Week Celebration on January 3rd and 4th, 2025. The programs highlighted the students' talents, knowledge, and dedication to promoting the Sanskrit language and its cultural heritage. The key events are summarised below:

January 3, 2025

PTM (Parent-Teacher Meeting)

The day commenced with a Parent-Teacher Meeting (PTM) that provided an opportunity for faculty and parents to engage in meaningful discussions about the students' academic progress and personal development. Faculty members shared feedback on students' performances, while parents appreciated the department's efforts in fostering a holistic learning environment.

Peer Learning Program

An inspiring Peer Learning Program was conducted by Moumita Tarafdar, a Semester 3 student. She presented an insightful session on Sanskrit Diacritics, explaining their role in accurate pronunciation and transliteration.

Moumita's clear and interactive teaching style made the session highly engaging, encouraging active participation from her peers. The program not only deepened the students' understanding of diacritics but also demonstrated the value of peer-led academic activities.

January 4, 2025

Wall Magazine Presentation: "Patravani"

The centrepiece of the day was the unveiling of the wall magazine, "Patravani," based on the theme, "LIKHON TOMAR DHULAI HOYECHE DHULI. This creative and intellectual endeavour explored the origin of Indian scripts and the importance of inscriptions in preserving India's cultural and historical heritage.

The magazine featured detailed content on the evolution of scripts like Brahmi and Devanagari, supplemented with visuals, illustrations, and thoughtful write-ups by students. It highlighted the crucial role of inscriptions in decoding the history of ancient India.

The wall magazine was inaugurated by the Principal of Gurudas College, Dr. Mausumi Chatterjee, who graced the occasion and attended all the programs. She shared her valuable insights, commending the department's efforts in Sanskrit and fostering creativity among students. The event also witnessed the presence of the IQAC Coordinator, who expressed appreciation for the students' innovative contribution.

Sanskrit Day Celebration

The Sanskrit Day Celebration was marked with enthusiasm and active participation from both students and faculty. Highlights of the program included:

- The melodious recitation of Sanskrit shlokas and poems.
- A Sanskrit drama that creatively illustrated the richness and relevance of the language.
- Motivational speeches by faculty members emphasising the importance of Sanskrit in understanding India's knowledge systems and cultural heritage.

The presence of the Principal, Dr. Mausumi Chatterjee, added immense value to the celebration. In her speech, she highlighted the need to keep Sanskrit alive in academics and cultural practices.

Conclusion

The Student Week Celebration by the Department of Sanskrit of Gurudas College on January 3rd and 4th, 2025, was a resounding success. The programs provided students with a platform to showcase their talents, engage in meaningful learning experiences, and deepen their appreciation for Sanskrit. The presence of the Principal, IQAC Coordinator, and parents further emphasised the department's commitment to excellence and its efforts to promote Sanskrit's timeless relevance.
